PRESS RELEASE

Terry Mulholland appointed to lead Ronacrete technical sales in Scotland

Terry Mulholland has recently been appointed Technical Area Manager for Ronacrete Ltd. covering Scotland.

Terry has worked for Ronacrete as a Technical Area Manager for almost five years and has extensive experience in the construction industry. He is looking forward to meeting and working with clients in this new area.

A professionally qualified Architectural Technologist, Terry spent 15 years working within a number of architectural practices on a variety of projects, gaining a sound understanding of building techniques and procurement.

The last 14 years have been spent in specialist construction product sales to architects, engineers and end-users, working for leading construction manufacturers including Ronacrete

“During his time with Ronacrete Terry has used his technical know-how to the full resulting in Specification sales to Architects and engineers. He has also developed and maintained long term relationships with specialist contractors in the North of England. I am sure this will continue in a similar vein as Terry takes responsibility for technical sales in Scotland.”
